

Quality Palliative Care in Long Term Care

A Community-University Research Alliance

Acknowledgement

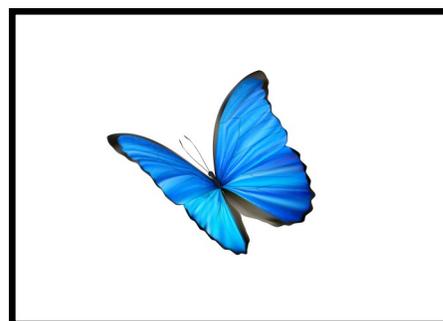

This document was created through research conducted by the Quality Palliative Care in Long Term Care (QPC-LTC) Alliance that includes four long term care homes, 30 researchers & knowledge brokers and 50 community organizational partners. We would like to thank the managers and staff at Bethammi Nursing Home and Hogarth Riverview Manor for their enthusiasm and commitment to creating this palliative care program implementation tool. We would also like to acknowledge our funders. The Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council (SSHRC) provided funding for the QPC-LTC Alliance research and the Canadian Institutes of Health Research (CIHR) funded the Knowledge Translation for this project. Please copy and share this document. We would appreciate you referencing the source of this work as: Placemat, Quality Palliative Care in Long Term Care, Version 1, www.palliativealliance.ca.

Placemats

Purpose:

A placemat supports communication between staff, residents, families and volunteers by:

- providing non-verbal communication that a resident has died
- honouring the resident
- providing opportunity for verbal communication if desired (all people grieve differently thus some may not want or may not be ready for verbal communication)
